CAR INSPECTION LAW GETS AIRING

Fire Destroys Home Of Mr., Mrs. Bickett; Everything Lost

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Bickett in the Marlow community was completely destroyed by fire around 9:30 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 22. The fire apparently started in the wiring in the rear of the house.

Cameron Volunteer firemen along with residents of that community, were summoned to the scene but the house was almost a total blaze on their arrival. The firemen put forth every effort possible. Water tanks on the truck along with water in a nearby earthern dam was used to bring the fire under control but the supply was not enough.

Mrs| Bickett had put the children to bed for the night. Mr. Bickett who was lying across the bed in the front upart of the house heard the crackling of the fire. When he opened a door leading to the back portion of the home he discovered the house on fire. They telephoned the fire department at once. Only a mattress and one small dresser was saved in the fire by a neighbor, William Whitaker.

Mrs. Bickett managed to get the children out of the house. Everything else was estroyed. There was no insurance on the house or furniture. The house, one of the oldest constructed in that part of the county was reported to have been built some 75 years ago.

The loss was estimated at around $15,000 to $20,000.

TO THE PATRONS OF FTHE CAMERON INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

On December 13, 1952 a school tax and bond election was held. Your school board asked for an over-all tax rate of $1.35 for local maintenance and to retire $500,000 in bonds. This request was defeated.

Since that time your school board has held three meetings to find out what the patrons want and why the election was defeated. All agreed that we must have a maintenance tax and also that we must have additional funds for repair and additional facilities. In these meetings the tax rate and the renditions were discussed and the school board went on record as favoring no increase in tax valuations in the country or in town, except in cases where extreme inequality exists. We all agreed that in such cases as adjustment should be made.

Some patrons expressed the desire to vote the maintenance tax at a set figure and the bond also at a given figure. The Attorney General's office has advised that this could not be done under existing law; that the rate voted for local maintenance tax must be the maximum over-all rate for all purposes, and that the bond tax must be included in and be deducted from the amount so voted for the local maintenance tax.

In compliance with a petition received from the necessary number of qualified voters the board has ordered an election to be held on March 14, 1953. Voting boxes are to be at Walkers Creek, Elm Ridge and at the Yoe High Gym. This election will be for the purpose of voting a $1.35 over-all tax for local maintenance and bonds in the amount of $390,000.

We sincerely hope that you will support this worthy and much needed program.

Volunteer Firemen Always Turn Out Good or Bad Weather

Cameron Voluntire Firemen turned out in good numbers Friday morning to bring the fire under control at the Wyatt Wolf home on West Main. The weather was bad and cold but the firemen were there just the same, to do all they could toward extinguishing the fire.

These men, the FIREMEN—are called day or night—cold, rainy, hot or whatever the weather may be to do a volunteer service for their city, surrounding communities and throughout the entire county and on certain occasions have gone to neighboring counties to assist in fighting fires.

Their services and efforts are tremendously valuable to us. Most towns have paid fire departments but our men quit their respective jobs, catch the fire truck or go in their private cars to render all the aid they can in the best possible way. We—Cameronites should express our appreciation in some way—This is our means.

Comments From A Pastor

PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK

Governor Allan Shivers and the Texas Board of Education are calling upon the citizens of Texas to observe March 1 through 7 as "PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK." This is the third year of such observance in Texas. Its purpose is to get the public to visit the schools and become acquainted with the teachers, the school program, the problems and need of the schools.

The public schools are probably the greatest factors in America for welding unity and understanding. The democratic processes, freedom and liberty depend largely upon an informed public well grounded in moral and spiritual values.

Enemies of freedom are no friends to our public schools. Totalitarian States try to take over all forms of communication and edu- propaganda for those in power. prapaganda for those in power. Communism has made its greatest strides in those countries where these free institutions were limited or controlled.

The Father of our Country, George Washington, and the framers of our Constitution guarded these freedoms; freedom of communication, and freedom of worship. It is ours to preserve. As long as we zealouely preserve these freedoms we will have little to fear from communism. But this freedom is not freedom from education and worship but opportunity for education and worship.

The public schools, under control of our elected officials are a unique contribution of the United States to the people of the world. Democracy has never survived in a country that denied the freedom of the press and of worship. The strengthening of Democracy depends upon strengthening our schools and churches.

"PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK" affords each citizen the opportunity to get acquainted with the schools and to show their interest and support. The schools are about what the public want them to be. These schools with the churches are the guardians of our heritage. Free schools and free churches in a free state are prizes for which our fathers died. Let us live for them.

By Rev. A. F. Russell
Pastor First Baptist Churh.

Gamma Globulin To Aid in Fight Against Polio Next Summer

All of the nation's pharmaceutical laboratories which have the ecessary equipment for producing gamma globulin (immune serum globulin) needed in the fight against paralysis caused by poliomeyelitis, soon will be working full capacity to produce the greatest possible amount of the serum by the polio becomes prevalent again next summer.

Estimates based on past experience indicate that polio may strike in epidemic proportions in at least 150 counties throughout the nation next summer. This would expose some 2,000,000 children to the dreaded disease. It takes about one pint of whole blood to make one dose of immune serum globulin, and one injection protects a child for a period of the second through the fifth week following the injection.

Since no large quantities of gamma globulin (immune serum globulin) now exist, all of the nation's laboratories which are equipped to make the serum, have been asked to begin working at full capacity immediately.

A few other laboratories may begin production in the near future. However, unless a laboratory already has the necessary equipment and trained personnel available, it would not be possible for it to produce gamma globulin in time for use in the summer of 1953 since it takes about six months to obtain such equipment and personnel before production can begin.

Lt. Col. Haygood Lands Safely When P-51 Engine Dies in Mid-Air

Lt. Col. John Calvin Haygood narrowly escaped injury Wednesday at 6:00 p. m. when the engine of his P-51 plane went out.

Lt. Col. Haygood was alone at the time and was returning from a routine flight from Austin. As he neared Waco the engine died and he was forced to land, in a freshly plowed field near the city.

In a telephone conversation with his mother-in-law, Mrs. George Mode, Thursday morning, Col Haygood said he made the landing safely and was not even shaken up. He said the engine was new and he had no idea what happened to it.

Col. Haygood is a former Cameron man and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Haygood of Bryan. He is currently stationed at Hensley AFB, Grand Prairie, Texas. He has been in the Army Air Corps for a number of years.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wrong "Train" of Thought

Most of us knew the streamliner stopped about four miles from town last Thursday — but we didn't know why . . .

Seems the train was hurrying along, then came the screeching of brakes — some fellow had pulled the Emergency Stop cord.

When the conductor asked him why he did it, he said, "The train was just going too fast—I wanted to get you to slow down."

From where I sit, that streamliner has been going at that speed for the past seven years with a perfect safety record and the passengers have always been pleased. Now—along comes a fellow who wants the train to go at his speed. Some people are like that. Some still would begrudge another person's right to a temperate glass of beer even though that person wouldn't dream of flashing a "Stop" sign on their preference for, say, milk, coffee or tea. Respecting the rights of others is the only way we can keep "on the right track."

Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls Assisting In Heart Fund Drive

More Texans are taking an interest in helping the Heart Fund than ever before, it has been announced by S. E. McCreless, chairman of the Texas Heart Association, whose drive is now in progress and will continue through the month of February.

McCreless said that thousands of Texans through their civic and fraternal organizations will take an active part in raising the $408,000 needed by the Texas Heart Association in 1953 to carry on the work and help with the national program to help America beat the nation's greatest tragic killer, heart disease.

Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts will work in practically all sections of the state. Albert D. Brown is State Commander of the American Legion. Mrs. A. Blieden, Houston, is head of the American Legion Auxiliary of the state. The Legion executive committee passed a resolution in September, 1952, while meeting in Austin to that effect.

Fraction Process Used In Gamma Globulin Analysis

While the chemical process of making gamma globulin is highly technical and complicated, some of the story can be told in layman terms. The first step is that of separating the plasma from the red and white cells and platelets. This is easily accomplished by use of centrifugal force.

Only the plasma is of further use. This clear solution is composed of about 93% water, 1% salt and 6% proteins. It is in the proteins that gamma globulin exists—along with albium, fibrinogen and other proteins.

The fractionation process used is commonly referred to as the "alcohol fractionation process," and requires considerable knowledge, skill, time, patience and equipment. Separating the proteins is the most difficult job. It involves a series of special unit processes—usually about six. Precipitation is caused by mixing ethyl alcohol with the plasma.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stanford and children, Charlotte and Morris visited relatives here over the weekend.

State Draft Call During April Set For 2,876 Men

Austin.—The state draft quota for April, calling for induction of 2,876 men, was announced Wednesday by state Selective Service headquarters. This number is 113 less than the March quota.

Grig Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective State director, said that more than 5,700 men would be examined in April, compared with a March examination call of 6,800.

Local board quotas for the April induction call will be figured and placed in the mail "the first week in March," the state draft dictor said. Board quotas for the April examination were mailed Tuesday.

Gen. Wakefield said that local boards will be authorized to induct men in April down to the age of 19 years and 6 months, as compared to 19 years and 9 months in March.

Local boards will be advised to fill April calls to greatest extent possible with men 20 years or older. At present, the state director said, most of the examined and acceptable men are in the 20 year old group. Following is a breakdown of examined and acceptable group by age as of Feb. 1: 21 and older—1,541; 20 years old, 6,167; 19 years old, 1,951.

Gen. Wakefield pointed out that the number of 19 year olds in the examined and acceptable group is increasing. The following shows how the number has grown: Dec. 1—43 men; Jan. 1—536 men; Feb. 1—1,951 men.

The state draft director stressed in a statement that present inductees for the armed forces are replacements for drafted men who are now getting out after two years of service.

Draft Board Lists Penalties on Men Who Fail to Meet Call

The question of what happens to registrants who fail to answer roll call at the time and place ordered for pre-induction physical examination is often asked of Milam County Local Board No. 92.

When a registrant fails to report at the time and place set for his pre-induction physical examination he is declared delinquent and ordered to report for induction on a subsequent date. He thus waives pre-induction physical examination and the 21-day period, or more, given him before actual induction. If a registrant fails to report for induction on the date and time ordered him his name is turned over to the United States Attorney for possible prosecution for violation of the Selective Service Law.

If the registrant can prove to the satisfaction of the local board that his failure to report for pre-induction physical examination at the time and place ordered was due to no fault of his own and was unavoidable he will not be declared delinquent, but will have his pre-induction physical examination postponed or delaysd until a later date. This does not necessarily mean that he would thereby delay his date of induction, since a registrant is inducted in order of birth date and 21 days after being examined, accepted and notified he is subject to induction when his birth date is reached. The excuse a registrant has to offer for failure to report when ordered has to be a good one and must prove to be something beyond the registraot'c control.

Upstream Water Dams Needed to Save Soil

Washington.—The building of small upstream dams to stop the soil washing away is "one of the greatest programs now challenging America," Rep. Bob Poage, Waco, author of a bill to provide federal help for such construction, told citizen volunteers here working for this program Wednesday.

A number of new members of congress, both Democrats and Republicans, heard Poage speak.

Senator Lyndon Johnson, who has introduced a like bill in the senate, was represented by Arthur Perry and Rep. Sam Rayburn, Bonham, by John Holton, Sherman. Rep. George Mahon, Lubbock, Rep. John Dowdy, Athens, and Rep. Martin Dies, Jasper, attended.

Texas Rural Carriers' Assn. Supporting Withdrawal From PAR

Nelson C. Smith of Farwell, president of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers' Association, said today that his group is supporting the national Association's decision to withdraw from the nationwide PAR movement.

PAR stands for Project-Adequate Roads.

Smith said the letter carriers abandoned the movement after learning that PAR is seeking development of a system of superhighways between big cities at the expense of a sound rural road program.

He also brought the proposed half-million dollar road program now before the state legislature into the picture. This program calls for expenditure of an additional $100,000,000 (millions) a year on Texas roads during the next five years.

"Like PAR," he said, "the road program now before our legislators apparently gives little though to getting the Texas farmer and small town citizens out of the mud."

Both Smith and C. H. Davis of Meridian, former chairman of the TRCAL rural roads and legislative committees, said the state's rural mailment feel that Texas should hold off on an all-out road program during the present period of extreme inflation.

Rockdale Will Supplement U. S. Water Grant Aid

Rockdale.—The $205,059 in federal funds approved as a grant for water and sewer system work at Rockdale by the Housing and Home Finance agency is to be supplemented by $100,000 in local funds, Mayor W. P. (Red) Hogan said today.

The grant was made to Rockdale as a critical defense area. It is an outright gift from the government to be used in extensive water and sewer improvements to take care of expansion brought on by the influx of workers to the new aluminum plant.

Mayor Hogan said revenue bonds would be issued for the $100,000 if the voters of Rockdale approve their issue. The election date is not set, but it will be called soon, the mayor said.

The federal money will become available as soon as the local fund arrangements are made.

The bonds will be paid off from increased revenues the larger water and sewer system will bring in. The mayor said there woud be no increase in taxes or property valuations. No announcement of a planned increase in water or sewer rates has been made.

Ag Leaders Give Answer to Current Farm Income Problems

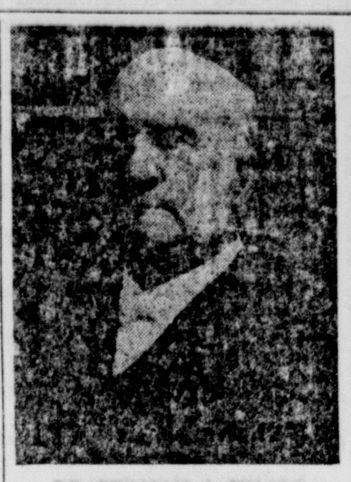
Washington. — Agricultural authorities are telling farmers throughout the country that increased fertilizer use is their best way to meet the lower farm prices —higher costs squeeze.

Under present circumstances, farmers naturally must keep a weather eye out so as to reduce expenses on items which do not offer adequate returns. Such is not the case with fertilizer expenditures; in fact, the dividends from its proper use make it the farmer's best bargain. In 1940, $1 invested in fertilizer brought a $2 dividend in extra crops; six months ago this investment brought an average return of $3.75, with dividends on certain specialty crops such as tomatoes running as high as $15. Even with a slump in market prices, far greater than experienced in recent months, fertilizer will remain the best guardian of the farmer's economic welfare. By increasing output per acre through greater fertilizer use, a farmer can maintain and even bolster his net income.

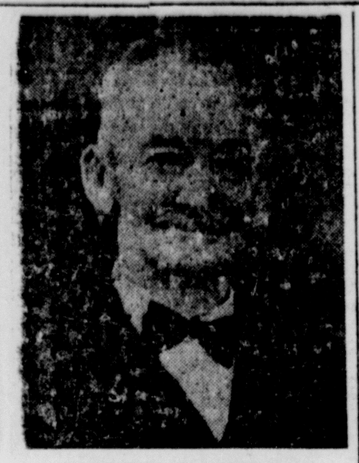
The major explanation for this favorable situation lies in the fact that fertilizer prices have not risen as fast as prices for other commodities the farmer buys. During the past 12 years, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, prices paid by farmers have gone up almost 100 per cent and farm wage rates have jumped 140 percent, but fertilizer prices have increased only 50 percent.

Rural leaders trained by county Extension personnel last year conducted some 3,500 meetings in their local communities where recreation formed a part of the program. More than 85,000 people attended these meetings.

There are now some 900 farmer-owner cooperatives in Texas. They cover all major argricultural commoditions and many supply services in addition to processing and marketing.



DR. SEAMAN A. KNAPP



WALTER C. PORTER

THE BIG NEWS that came from an all-day meeting at Odd Fellows Hall here 50 years ago was—"Terrell Gets the Farm." This statement of course referred to the establishment of the first demonstration farm in the nation to be supervised by a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Two names that have grown in stature with the years came out of this February 26, 1903 meeting; Dr. Seaman A. Knapp the USDA representative and demonstration supervisor, and Walter C. Porter, the first demonstrator. The esablishment of this demonstration farm and other closely related activities resulted in the passage of the Smith-Lever Act by the Congress of the United States.

Governor Shivers Wants Gas Tax Hiked One Cent

The highway problem is a foremost one in the Legislature, and many proposals have been made to solve it. Governor Allan Shivers has asked the Legislature to add at least one cent a gallon to the gasoline tax to furnish additional money.

One cent per gallon would bring the state $25 million per year.

Another plan was put forward by Representative Charles Murphy of Houston, sponsor of a constitutional amendment requiring all highway user taxes to go for road building, maintenance, and policing.

Should the amendment be passed by the Legislature and ratified by the voters. the schools would lose their share of the gasoline tax revenue. They now get one-fourth of it.

House Farm Leaders Move to Halt Decline In Cattle Prices

Farm leaders in the House moved Friday to halt the decline in beef prices and stabilize the cattle market generally.

A House agricultural subcommittee agreed on a four-point program based principally on increased producers.

"The situation is not critical just yet, and it is nothing like as bad as the 1930s," Rep. Hope (R-Kan) chairman of the full agriculture committee, said.

But he added that if the bank "tighten up" Congress may have to act swiftly to bolster confidence in the cattle country.

The subcommittee urged immediate action to provide enough credit so that cattle producers can carry their herds through the "critical market period." Subcommittee Chairman Hill (R-Colo) said the aim was to prevent forced marketing and the liquidation of foundation herds on which future production is based.

"Texans tell us they like our Grand Prize Pale Dry Beer because— it has 'REAL BEER' FLAVOR"

C E Lieberman
Master Brewer

When GRAND PRIZE introduced the original Texas Pale Dry Beer in January, 1950, it signalled the subsequent appearance of kindred brews in this area and the trend to lighter, drier beers began. It was part of a national change to a new characteristic in taste appeal.

But there was a real difference in Grand Prize Pale Dry, for this beer, brewed by the exclusive TOP OF THE BREW process for lighter color and drier taste did retain real beer flavor.

This flavorful, full-bodied, slow aged brew was a Gold Medal Award winner in International competition in Antwerp, Belgium in August, 1952, among judges who were experts — people who really know beer. For Texans who really know beer, it's the same taste result—PREMIUM QUALITY GRAND PRIZE—the brew with the REAL BEER FLAVOR.

GRAND PRIZE—THE FULL BODIED PALE DRY BEER THAT RETAINS REAL BEER FLAVOR!

Army Prepares Draft Doctors in 'Priority 3'

Washington.—The Army said Thursday that non-veteran doctors who have not been trained at government expense must be drafted soon, probably beginning next month.

The Selective Service system said it is ready to authorize draft boards to begin dipping into the so-called "Priority 3" by taking doctors up to age 35. The category includes all physicians up to age 51 who have had no military experience.

Broadening of the doctor draft has become necessary despite "rescreening" which has reduced the rate of physical rejections in "Priorities 1 and 2" from 25 per cent to about 5 per cent.

Priorities 1 and 2 are composed of physicians who received training from the government, or who were deferred for such training, and who saw less than 21 months of actual service in World War II.

The Army said that reports from half the states show that rescreening of approximately 3,500 top-priority doctors who were rejected for physical reasons indicate that nearly three-fourths of them now are being accepted, at least for limited duty.

The cases of 969 top-priority physicians who were deferred as essential to their communities also are being re-examined.

Under 7-Step Program Improvement Continues

College Station.—The 7-step Cotton program was the organization used in 1952 by the Texas Agriculturay Extension Service for carrying to cotton growers the latest information on production, harvesting and marketing. Fred C. Elliott, cotton work specialist, says the results of research work done by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has aided growers in their improvement program.

Last year farmers used preemergence chemicals on 7,754 acres for early weed control and herbicidal oils as a post-emergence spray for weed and grass control on 2,303 acres. These are new developments that promise lower production costs and cleaner fields for mechanical harvesting, says Elliott. Research workers are conducting tests with many other chemicals and within a few years, the most expensive single hand labor item in producing cotton—hand hoeing—may be a thing of the past.

Mrs. E. A. Camp of Rockdale visited with relatives here Thursday afternoon.

NFIP Gets Polio Serum Wanted By New York Black Marketeers

New York.—Next summer's polio epidemic areas were saved from scheming black marketeers Friday when the five private producers of gamma globulin agreed to sell their entire output to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Their voluntary action smashed a growing "black market" hoarding of precious fraction of human blood which bestows at least some immunity for five weeks when injected into the body. When 1953's "polio season" comes, it will be in tremendous demand but in very short supply.

The foundation was counting on all available gamma globulin to rush into whatever areas threatened by epidemics. By injecting it into every child in these areas, polio experts figured they could prevent epidemics from developing and thus save hundreds from death or crippling.

Rockdale.—A grant of $205,059 for improvement of booming Rockdale's water works and sewer syster was approved in Washington Wednesday by the Housing and Home Finance agency.

These utilities in this expanding new aluminum center which estimates indicate has doubled its population in the last 18 months, have been taxed to capacity.

"We ecertainly have been looking forward to getting the money," Alderman Harold Luckey said. Mayor W. P. (Red) Hogan was out of town and unavailable for comment, but Mr. Luckey said the mayor had received official notification of the grant.

The federal money is to be used solely for work on the water and sewer system, Mr. Luckey explained. He said work would start on the improvements as soon as possible.

No estimate on the date when the money will be received has been made by officials.

The Dark Can Kill You

America's millionth traffic victim has been dead a year. Yet auto wrecks go right on changing our country crossroads into killer corners.

Where's the villain?

Some say "more cars on the road these days." Some point to "reckless youths" . . . "lax laws" . . . "drunken driving" . . . "speeding."

But something else may be more to blame for auto accidents than any of these. Darkness. Plain old darkness.

Look at one case. In a Connecticut area 182 pedestrians were killed at night in two years—179 on poorly lighted streets.

Busy traffic centers are waking up fast, lighting their death-trap streets. Salt Lake City cut night deaths 92% in one area, Grand Rapids 78%, Bridgeport 93%.

Some small communities have been first to pick up the newest in lighting equipment. Oakwood, Ohio, has the largest installation of fluorescent street lamps in the country. And there's a broad-daylight look in Lyndonville, Vermont, even late at night. Fluorescent lighting as developed by General Electric has now been extended to street lighting.

Good street lighting has been a pet project of ours for years. General Electric engineers work with local officials on other community problems, too—traffic control, water shortage, waste disposal, farm and home modernization—wherever electricity can help progress. For progress is our most important product. General Electric Company, Department 2-123, Schenectady, N. Y.

survey is one of the most potent methods of eliminating TB," he said.

Every person in Milam county, 15 years of age or older, is urged to take advantage of the free chest X-rays. They are absolutely free, the reports are confidential and only the person X-rayed and their family physician will know the results. A person being X-rayed may usual street dress and it is not necessary to undress.

Transportation from all outlying areas in the county will be provided by county school busses to the X-ray units. The transportation will be free of charge for adults and children 15 years of age and older. The period of time for the unit to be in Milam county is less than in past years and everyone is urged to have their X-ray.

The local Chamber of Commerce is making plans to have an adequate numbe rof clerks on duty so that there will not be a waiting period for the person being X-rayed. Several ladies clubs and organizations have been contacted and will provide clerks.

People living in or near the other towns in Milam county may have X-rays taken on the dates designated: Buckholts, March 17; Thorndale, March 25, Rockdale, March 26 and 27.

Despite the continuing drouth, homestead improvement demonstrators last year planted nearly 200,000 trees for windbreaks and shade and 50,000 shrubs. More than 3,000 lawns were also sodded.

HOME REMEDIES ARE IN VOGUE AGAIN

The flu epidemic, along with shortages of doctors, has by necessity revived many home remedies. Possibly not since frontier days added sugar and butter to taste. There are innumerable ones for has there been so much talk of home remedies.

Here is an old one for colds: Give equal parts of hot vinegar and water, to which have been croup: Ten drops of kerosene on a teaspoon of sugar: inhale smoke from pine knots: heat turpentine in a spoon and inhale the fumes. J. Marvin Hunter, Sr., in "Frontier Times," August, 1951, recalls this treatment for soreness to the chest: Sore chest "was relievid by wearing a piece of red flannel over it. Between the chest and the flannel was a plaster composed of the following ingredients: Kerosene, turpentine, red pepper and whatever else could be spared from the pantry or barn

In case complications develop, here is a prescription for pneumonia: "Take large cabbage leaves and wilt them over a fire to make them soft, then put the leaves all over the patient's chest, sides and back, wrap a thin cloth around the patient to hold the leaves in place, then pour on vinegar just as hot as the patient can stand it. The sick one will start to sweat right away and the pneumonia will be broken up."

A group of Mexican railroad workers were found practicing this preventive measure: When they got their feet wet in cold water they always wet their heads, to prevent illness from getting their feet chilled.

In numerous pioneer reports, onions are referred to as a preventive—but nothing very specific is said about what, or whom, they prevent.

The "Texas State Gazette," October 16, 1852, carried this report on treatment of tuberculosis: ". . . A residence in a sugar house, during the rolling season, far surpasses any other known means of restoring flesh, strength and health, lost by chronic ailments of the chest, throat or stomach. The rolling season is the harvest, when the canes are cut, the juice extracted and converted into sugar . . . Dr. C. says the vapor is most agreeable and soothing to the lungs and in his own case removed a distressing cough. He stood for hours in the sugar house inhaling the vapor and drinking occasionally a glass of the hot cane juice."

Now a word to women about those backaches. This is a clinical report of a doctor, in the "San Antonio Daily Herald," Aug. 5, 1851. The physician reported that some of his patients were relieved of backache by wearing less clothing. In this more modern day, one may have to use extreme discretion before deciding what can be discarded. The physician stated that a lady who had suffered for years from pains in the back and adjacent regions was "induced to adopt hooped and light skirts instead of the heavy ones . . . After a few weeks she said that she was entirely free of backaches and other uncomfortable feelings . . . She weighed the skirty formerly worn and those lately adopted; the former weighed over four times as much as the latter. This difference in weight with the greater freedom of movement . . . and oppressive heat about the loins . . . might convince . . . those suffering . . . to adopt hooped or light skirts. . ."

Doctors still do not know a cure for colds. So, as long as the patient is not damaged by medicine, perhaps one treatment is about as good as another, As for a specific for flue the situation is about as discouraging. Keep the patient comfortable and build up his resistance is about as much as is definitely agreed upon as being helpful. This is the "shot" conscious age. But flu flue shots seem to be little more than a hopeful broadside.

In view of the failure of modern science to procedure a specific for some common respiratory ailments, perhaps the old fashioned remedies are not so old fashioned after all.
